CRESCENT TROUBLE SETTLED; MINERS WILL GO TO WORK

Operations at California Plant to be Resumed Next Monday

ADJUSTMENT A COMPROMISE

One of Old Local Checkweighman Recognized, But Other Must Leave Tipple—Victory Regarded as One For the Conservatives.

After a two months strike and six months of dissension union trouble at the Crescent mine at California of the Pittsburg Coal company has virtually been ended and if there is no further outbreak miners will return to work next Monday. This decision will affect from 1,000 to 1,300 men.

By the amicable adjustment which has been reached through the efforts of Board Member John O'Leary and International Organizer William Feeney a compromise is effected in the differences between the new and the old locals. The new local is recognized, in accordance with action taken at the district convention of mine workers in Pittsburg in Harch, but carries with it the acceptance of an old local election.

The trouble at the Crescent mine originated over the choice of checkweighman, the controversy starting fully six months ago. By the settlement Steve Bruza is to have the tipple but Checkweighman Harry Delbarre of the old local is to remain. All m oney now held by the coal company such as check off funds or union dues is to be paid over to the new local union.

The settlement is regarded as a viceory for the conservatives. It was not effected without much discussion and a final meeting was held on Friday, when about 600 men attended. The proposition finally accepted was one that had been offered many months ago. The officers of the local as it will now exist are: President, William Turnblazer; vice president, Phillip Amberger; secretary, Hamilton Smith; treasurer, Martin Cater.

ACCUSED BANDIT FURTHER ACCUSED

Numerous Crimes Charged to Thomas Talbot Now in Jail at Washington

FIRST IS HOUSTON ROBBERY

With the exception that Thomas H. Talbot, alleged to be one of the bandits, was taken before Justice of the Peace J .M. Ralston to be arraigned on charges of felonious entry, robbery and larceny, there were no developments Friday that had a direct bearing on the daring robbery of the First National bank of Houston more than one week ago.

But County Detecetive Bert Laird announced that he believed from information he had picked up while running down the clew that led to the capture of Talbot by himself and Detective E. E. Dilley of the Burns force, that Talbot was probably connected with the robbery of the Washington street car office some months ago, the murder of Station Agent Franks at Bridgeville and dynamiting of the safe in the Pennsylvania railroad station there as well as other crimes that have been committed in the Pittsburg district within the past year or so.

Joseph K. McNutt, cashier of the First National bank made the charges against Talbot. Cashier McNutt arrived in Washington shortly before noon Friday and after a conference with District Attorney I. W. Baum went to the office of Justice of the Peace Ralston to make the information.

County Detective Bert M. Laird took the prisoner from the jail to the justice's office. Talbot requested that his counsel, Attorney Harry F. Moore be called in when he was asked whether he wanted a hearing or would waive for court.

Through Attorney Moore, Talbot demanded a hearing and Monday,

STERILIZED EGGS IS LATEST FOOD IDEA

By means of a process that has not yet become public property, there is a strong possibilty that eggs may hereafter be kept for years without spoiling. Agents of the Dairy and Food Division of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture have just brought to the attention of the department a sterilizing process whereby eggs may be kept solid and in good condition for years.

One dozen eggs, some of them three years old, were opened by Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust recenly and were found to be solid and practically in perfect condition. The eggs were sent to the Department of Agriculture from Philadelphia where where was a steady sale to hotels of what was termed "Sterilized Eggs." Investigation by the agents showed that the eggs, some of which were as old as April, 1912, had been sterilized under what is known as the Taylor process and had been kept in warehouses and cellars and recently sold to hotels in Philadelphia.

The eggs were solid, looked very much like fresh eggs and upon candling were found not to be shrunken. Further investigation led to the discovery of a machine which was used in the patented process of sterilizing the eggs. All that is now known of the process is that the eggs are placed in the machine and drop first into hot and then cold oil. The pores are closed, the shells strengthened and the eggs sterilized.

Professor LaWall, chemist of the Dairy and Food Division is now doing some experimental work in connection with sterilized eggs and in a short time the results of his work may be known. It is altogether probable that a method superior to the cold storage and water glass preserving may be found.

Miss Nelle Mangan visited at Donora Thursday afternoon.

ENTRY BLANKS MADE OUT FOR FIELD MEET

Entry blanks for the third annual track and field meets of the high schools of Washington county have been mailed and all preliminary arrangements for the big athletic event which is to be held at College Field, Washington, on Saturday, May 6, have been completed with but few exceptions.

Although the same men were interested in the staging of the meet, which has proven so successful that it has become an annual affair, during the first two years, this spring it will be conducted under the auspices of the newly formed Washington County Interscholastic Athletic association.

Twenty-two of the 28 high schools in Washington county have united with the asociation and every one is expected to have athletes in the competition on May 6. In this event, records for the number of schools represented will be broken.

But few cnanges have been made in the rules governing the meet. In fact, there has only been one. This is in the number of point winning places. In the two previous meets only athletes winning a first, second, third or fourth place scored points for their schools. This year fifth place will annex one point.

The same number of medals and ribbons will begiven though, the executive committee of the association deciding not to award a ribbon to a fifth place man. Under this arrangement points will be distributed as follows: First place, five points; second, four points; third, three points; fourth, two points and fifth one point.

The Charleroi high school field and track teams have been working out every night that the weather has permitted recently and hope for good results.

MINERS RUN WHEN THE FLOOR SAGS

Near-Panic Controlled at California and Little Damage is Done

COOLNESS OF FEW PREVAILS

Only the coolness of a few and prompt action prevented a panic that would have carried with it death and destruction when the floor began to sink in the third story of the Eagles' building at California Friday afternoon when a miners' meeting was called to order. The meeting was of Crescent miners and such was the interest that from 600 to 700 crowded into the place. Then the floor started to sag and tear.

A hasty exit started and in a moment there would have been a panic but for a few cool heads which controlled the situation by marshaling the miners and starting them down the stairs in orderly array. Before the floor had time to drop the miners had succeeded in making their exit.

Never before had a crowd similar to this been in the popular meeting hall and its capacity was unknown. On the second floor of the building the Eagles' parlors are located and on the first are billiard alleys and pool rooms. After the hasty adjournment of the meeting the miners went to the high school auditorium where they took up their business.

DRIVER HAS CLOSE CALL WHEN TRAIN HITS WAGON

A driver by the name of Harris, employed by John Williams, a feed merchant of California, had a narrow escape this morning when his wagon was struck by a train at a crossing in Coal Centre. As it happened Harris was not hurt and little damage was done to his wagon. His team was not injured.

Miss Ida Hugg to Have Charge of Instruction—Object of School is to Prepare Foreign Born Men For Citizenship Tests.

A naturalization school to prepare foreigners for citizenship tests will be started in Charleroi Monday evening next under the auspices of the Charleroi public school authorities, with Miss Ida Hugg of the high school faculty as the teacher in charge. The naturalization school was ordered by the school board upon hearing a request presented by William Ragsdale, examiner of the Bureau of Naturalization of the Pittsburg district.

Superintendent T L. Pollock has been working out the plans for the school. It will be conducted two nights a week for the present, Mondays and Thursdays, each evening's session beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Department of Labor in a recent communication to Superintendent Pollick gave a list of 84 names of men in the school district who had made known their desire to become citizens. It is to teach adults in the details of citizenship and to prepare them for citizenship examinations that the school is to be established. Superintendent Pollock sent out letters to each of the 84 persons, but so far has received but eight answers.

NATIVE AMERICANS

When Joseph G. Cannon speaks he speaks to a question before the house and if the pending measure doesn't raise the sort of question he would like to speak to, he will raise one that does. The Burnett bill, providing a literacy test for intending immigrants was up. It offered only a parliamentary question, but as there was much talk about "native Americans" among members favoring the bill, the former speaker raised another as a substitute, by asking if anybody could tell him what a native American really is. Then he answered himself, as he usually has to do at such times, by saying that native American names ought to be found in the list of family names listed in the first federal census taken in 1790 and recently issued by the Census Bureau, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

That was the beginning of revelations. And the revelations are more startling and terrifying than many in the Sacred Book. In the bright galaxy of names not written there, as nailed against the house walls by Mr. Connon's hand and hammer, appears McKenna, Pitney, Van Devanter, Brandeis, McAdoo, Burleson, Houston, Agassiz, Edison, Westinghouse, Carnegie, Harriman, Astor, Belmont, Lorillard, Funston, Pershing, Watterson, "Billy" Sunday and Mary Pickford. Mirabile dictu! Pluck these names out of our native skies and would not the sun refuse to shine and the moon to give light? Mr. Cannon did not go so far as to say just that but he intimated in calling names now on senate and house rolls which cannot be found among the names of our first families, that if the melting pot had been kicked over, when the first attempt was made a century ago, or at any subsequent attempt, our fat might have been in the fire: "The names of 135 members of this House," he solemnly declared "cannot be found in the first census of the United States and the Senate is not better represented there than the House."

Apparently growing bolder in the awed hush which must have fallen upon his hearers, the ex-speaker went nearer to the point of saying that, if we had drawn the names of leaders only out of that old hat he could not say what might have happened to us ere now. "The name of Roosevelt," he said, "does not appear in any form root or synonym among the first families." He implied that if such strong alien stock as that had been excluded for any reason, we might have lost the battle of San Juan.

Allegheny county is considerably bothered with the condition of the Elkhorn road and finally is becoming impressed with the belief that its improvement on an elaborate scale—and most certainly road improvement can be called elaborate when it is costing $33,000 per mile or more—is entirely wrong. Allegheny ought to have discovered its mistake long before this. After the grading is done and a few thousand spent is poor time to reconsider. It is too much like building a house to the roof and then taking a notion you want it constructed differently, necessitating razing. Allegheny county now opines a river bridge crossing at Courtney and connecting up good roads in this manner might be a suitable substitute. And in furtherance of this idea it considers Washington county might well become interested and stand half the burden of expense. What a perfectly grand idea—for Allegheny county! As far as Washington is concerned there is little need of a river bridge at Courtney and there isn't the least reason in the world why this county should help cover up Allegheny's mistakes. Let it take care of its own engineering troubles.

Developments worth while watching are promised at the Dunlevy site where tenants of land forming one of the best factory sites yet unclaimed in the Monongahela valley have been given notice to vacate. The suddenness with which the notice was given and the secrecy which obtains, lends credence to the belief that something big in the way of industrial development is to be undertaken. Whatever it is, if the present movement presages future activity in the part of some large corporation in the building of plants, Charleroi will be benefitted.

GET THE STRAND HABIT -:- FOLLOW THE CROWD

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A gentleman called on an acquaintance and in the course of the conversation hinted about his thirst. The host cautioned him with a finger to his lips.

"Sh-sh-sh," he said. "My wife doesn't allow me to have any wet goods on the grounds. The only thing I have is fish punch."

"Fish punch?" queried the other. "I've never heard of it. But I'm thirsty enough to drink salt water. Lead on we'll try some of it."

The friend pointed to a globe full of gold fish.

"Go right to it, old man," he said, engagingly, "I'm sure you'll like fish punch."

The street car was crowded and a gentleman with kindly twinkle in his eyes took 5-year-old Tom upon his lap.

"This will be better than standing, won't it my boy?"

'Uh, huh," Tom replied, without enthusiasm. He had rather enjoyed lurching about the aisle, just like his father.

"But you want to be careful that I don't pick your pocket," the gentleman cautioned in a whisper.

"Can't Tom retarted, his voice somewhat muffled. "Soon as I saw you lookin' at me I put my penny in my mouth."—Judge.

Two good three-act programs were reigning attractions at the Palace theatre this week. The first part of the week Bob and Muriel Vincent, banjo players were featured, playing and singing the latest song hits of the day. A sensational novelty act was presented by Thompson and Griffith. Beginning Thursday a complete change of program was presented. Marsden and Nanson entertained with a variety program of comedy, singing and dancing. One of the most pleasing numbers was Valentine's Comedy Dogs, in which a three round boxing exhibition was given. This act came direct from the Harris theatre at Pittsburg and was a headliner attraction of considerable merit. The Rose Bunning Trio of singers, dancers and comedians concluded the vaudeville part of the program. Many good motion pictures were shown including "Tom Martin," "Soldiers' Sons" and comedy pictures. For thecoming week great programs in vaudeville are being booked.

STRAND—CHARLEROI

The Monday attraction at the Strand theatre which N. A. Gregory has just opened was Robert Warwick, one of theforemost film stars of the day in "The Fruit of Desire." This was a William Brady production, ranking high in the moving picture firmament. On Tuesday a Triangle Keystone program was given. The regular installment of the serial picture, "The Strange Case of Mary Page" was shown on Wednesday, together with "Little Dutch Girl" a Shubert feature with Vivian Martin in the leading role. "Man and His Aangel," featuring June Grey and a chapter of "The Girl and the Game." a serial made up the strong and eminently pleasing Thursday program. In order that those following the serial "The Girl and the Game" would not lose any of the story Manager Gregory had two installments of the picture this week. For Friday the attraction will be Florence Labadie in "The Five Faults of Flo." A special program has also been secured for Saturday. Next weeks features are of the finest sort. Large crowds attended on this the opening week of the Strand.

COYLE—CHARLEROI

In the Coyle theatre program this week appeared some of the highest class film productions Manager Coyle ever presented. The Fox production on Monday was a good one. It was "A Wife's Sacrifice" and delt with a story that was of a heart interest nature. Robert Mantell and The Paramount production on Tuesday was "The Blacklist," with Blanche Sweet and Charles Clary in the stellar roles. It was of the usual Paramount standard. On Wednesday Julius Teger and Grace Valentine appeared in "The Blindness of Love" a meritorious film presentation. Then on Thursday a Marguerite Clark feature film was shown as one of the famous Paramount pictures. The title was "Out of the Drifts." Its good points were brought out with a vivid reality. "The Battle Cry of Peace" is being shown Friday as a return engagement, with Nirella's orchestra playing the music score and the Saturday booking is "Vengeance isMine" a Mutual masterpiece in six reels.

MAJESTIC—CHARLEROI

Charles Richmond who created a sensation in the preparedness drama, "The Battle Cry of Peace" was featured on Monday of this week in the filmed attraction "Heights of Hazard," a Vitagraph feature at the Majestic theatre. This was one of the shining marks of the week made by the new management at this popular Fallowfield avenue theatre. On Tuesday the production of "The Smugglers" was shown to good sized audiences. The story was unique and thrilling. A five-reel Essanay feature "The Discard" was a Wednesday production of unusual merit, relating a story of heart interest. "Virtue Triumphant" was the title of the Thursday drama that was featured with other contemporary films. This was a moral lesson taught in film. Friday is announced the big attraction "Vengeance of the Oppressed" and Saturday "The Wheels of Justice will be the headliner at the Majestic. Next week's program promises to be a rich one in features, according to announcement.

NEW DAVIS—PITTSBURG.

What is perhaps the most interesting announcement regarding the theatres of Pittsburg that has been made in the current season comes from the offices of the Harry Davis Enterprises company in the news of the engagement of Weber and Field's to play in vaudeville at the New Davis Theatre for one week beginning next Monday afternoon, April 17. That this famous team, long separated, had reunited for a brief tour over the Keith circuit of vaudeville theatres has been a subject for discussion for some time past, but that they had been secured for a Pittsburg week was not known until this announcement was sent broadcast. And so, in the forthcoming week, all those Pittsburgers and Greater Pittsburgers, from the environs who go to the New Davis Theatre may reasonably expect to have the same sort of experience as dear old "Uncle John" Brashear, Pennsylvania's greatest living citizen, had when, on a morning after an evening at the Davis, he was compelled to send his clothes to the tailor's for repairs, so much he laughed, so much they stretched from sheer paroxysm of cachination. But Weber and Fields are not the only incitets to mirth in Mr. Davis' program for the week of the 17. There will be numerous other artists comprising a program of nine acts and including the celebrated exponents of Hindoo magic, Leon and Company; Alfred Bergen, the eminent baritone, Charles Bensee and Florence Baird in songs; the Norvelles in a skit called "An Artist's Studio," and sundry and several other divertisements.

GRAND—PITTSBURG

An occasion that is being accepted as an event of importance in amusement circles is the announcement by Harry Davis that the Stock Company Players at the Grand will present George M. Cohan's musical comedy, "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway." All the events transpire in the village of New Rochelle and relate to the supposed inheritance of Tom Bennett, who on going to take possession of his new found riches, engages as his secretary, Kid Burns, a pal of his race track boxing glove days.. The whole country is enthusiastic over the following tercentenary celebration of Shakespeare's birthday and Mr. Harry Davis, with his usual up-to-date and far-ahead progressiveness has arranged for a conspicuous production of "The Taming of the Shrew."

To this end, he has, by great good fortune, arranged with the Ada Rehan estate for the loan of Augustin Daly's manuscript of this delightful comedy from the pen of the great Bard of Avon, so that Pittsburg's lovers of Shakespeare and they are legion, will see indentically the same stage business, cues. incidental music, and other details which marked the notable production o this play by Augustin Daly at Daly's theatre in New York and London.

ALVIN—PITTSBURG

"Nobody Home," that smart, syncopating, foxy-trotty musical comedy success which kept New York, Boston and Chicago laughing, dancing and singing for more than a year will return to the Alvin Theatre Monday next with the original all-star cast.

The book by Paul Rubens and Guy Bolton, tells of a young Englishman's first visit to New York to see his brother; of his meeting with an actress, Tony Miller from the Winter Garden, of his inability to get accomodations at the Blitz Hotel and the kindness of Tony Miller in coming to his assistance by offerings to lend him her apartment which she has not seen or used. Not knowing that the young lady is an actress Freddy Poppie, the Englishman accepts and from that time on the fun comes fast and furious. There will be the usual matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

SPECIAL ELECTRICAL EFFECTS AT PALACE

One of the most spectacular vaudeville programs ever presented in Charleroi will be the attraction at the Palace theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. This will be "The Moon Girl and the Mermaid Company." The Moon girl will sail over theaudience singing, will sail over the audience singing flowers. Wonderful scenic and electrical effects are used. A half carload of special scenery is carried with the company. Other acts and motion pictures will also be shown.

Child's Education.

The education of the child in ideals of equity must come in large measure from the give and take of his relations with other children, whether in the home or outside. But this must be supplemented with the pervasive influence of sympathetic, yet detached, judgment of older persons.

First "Push Button."

Benjamin Franklin invented the electric "push button." This was accomplished in 1751. He "shocked" the railing in front of his Philadelphia residence, finding the idlers of the street were too fond of gathering under his window. This so alarmed them that they no longer gave the philosopher offense.

Wherein the Profit.

"Is there any profit in selling postage stamps?" inquired the man in search of information. "Not directly," replied the druggist, "but it gets people into the habit of going to the drug store, and after that it doesn't take long to make chronic invalids of them."—Kansas City Star.

Changing a Word's Meaning.

"Pension" is among the numerous cases of words of Latin origin specialized to mean something which the original did not mean to the Romans. "Pensio" signified simply a payment in the broadest sense; and we are at liberty to draw the sound moral that a pension is not really something thrown in as a gratuity, but deferred pay. The word for a soldier's pay was "stipendium;" and here we have another curious shift of meaning. Nobody speaks of a soldier's "stipend" now; it is a magistrate or a clergyman whose pay receives that name. The "stipendium" was paid in lumps three or four times a year, and the word came to be used to mean a year's term of service.

FIRST WEEK OF METHODIST SERVICES BROUGHT TO CLOSE

With interest unabated the first week of the meetings for "Protracted Evangelism" were brought to a successful close at the Methodist Episcopal church by Dr. W. G. Mead, pastor, Friday evening. The attendance was large and enthusiastic. A good-sized delegation was present from the fifth and ninth districts of the church plan and at their suggestion a number of soul-stirring songs were sung. The choir under the temporary leadership of W. S. James sang to the delight of the audience. Dr. Mead had for his subject, "Why Are There Not More Conversions," from the text "Ye will not come unto me that ye might have life." The speaker swept away the pretexts and excuses that the unconverted offer and forcefully placed the blamed on the will of the individual. He said when the will was harmonized with God's will something is going to happen. Indifference and neglect he said leads to a refusal and a refusal to a despising of salvation and that in turn to the lose of the soul.

There will be special features all day Sunday. The chief feature will be the attendance in a body of the John Wesley Bible class taught by H. J. Booth. They will have a prominent part in the evening's service and Kline's quartet will sing.

ACCUSED BANDIT

April 24, at 1 o'clock was the date fixed by Justice Ralston. Being accused of having committed a felony, Talbot's bail will have to be fixed in court.

A report was published in Pittsburg that the wife of a fugitive from justice, who was connected with a series of robberies in the Oakland district, stated that her husband and Talbot were intimate friends and visited each other quite often.

It has been learned that Thomas H. Talbot was never assistant station agent at the Pennsylvania railroad depot in McDonald. The Talbot under arrest was never in the employ of that company. A man named Talbot it is said was assistant agent at McDonald for a time and the names were confused.

Although Talbot had declared confidently that he would be released his detention in jail and the fact that he will have to face serious charges does not seem to worry him in the least. He is cheerful and talks readily to the jail wardens and turnkeys when they visit him.

Talbot was closeted with his counsel Friday morning and afterwards was visited by Detectives Laird and Dilley. The latter would not make a statement after their interview with him.
